

TSA and Me: A Light-hearted Look at Travel Today

What happens when you lose $27 dollars worth of lip gloss to the Transportation Security Administration on a flight from Los Angeles to Las Vegas? The book, TSA and Me: A Light-hearted Look at Travel Today brings the expedition of inconsistencies to your seat. This journey of unpredictability will have you laughing along with the stories as the author reflects on her interactions and experiences with air travel security. Author Larissa J. Schultz, shares her quirky perspective of air travel security today through her wry sense of humor and keen sense of observation, as she presents tales from over a years worth of travel. She even included, An Ode to Ziploc, her tribute to the kitchen-aid product standing by Americans for so many years. Also, dont miss the excerpt, The Top 10 Ten Things to Think About While Standing in a TSA Security Line.
