

Cybertrips in Social Studies: Online Field Trips for All Ages

This step-by-step primer allows teachers to use virtual field trips to provide maximum learning opportunities to their students. Twelve complete trips cover common themes in social studies, including family and community, historical times and places, current events, concept courses, and social action. Also included are ideas to help teachers design their own virtual tours and adapt the existing trips to different topics. Difficulties such as limited computer availability and locating material online are discussed.
