

Embrace Financial Freedom: Releasing Fear & Bouncing Back From A Debt Crisis (Embrace Series Book 2)

This book is the Sequel to my Volume 1 and it deals with Releasing Fear and Bouncing Back from a Debt Crisis. So often when we face a Financial Crisis, we only focus on the Crisis, not our emotional Well-being, or how we will cope with this dire situation and my advice here, based on my personal experience, is that we need to focus on us first, how we feel, improve our emotions, release the debt fear we face and gear ourselves up to face the situation and the Creditors, most importantly. This is a huge hurdle at the beginning of a Debt Crisis and so I have presented a variation of Tools and Methodologies to shift those negative emotions to a positive, enabling the individual to deal with the situation in a good way, with better feeling emotions, hence changing their own world before the situation changes. I have also highlighted the negatives in both gender situations, what the mistakes are we make when we are in this situation, how to identify the red flags and steer away from them, thus paving the way to tackle the situation in a more positive manner. What I have presented here is not rocket science, but I tried to put it all in one place, enabling an ease of use of these Tools and it is my hope that they can be used not only for a Debt situation, but other dire crisis that so often hit our lives. My message is that nothing is as bad as it appears, because when we apply the positive action that worked for many others, recovery is a natural progression. It is my way of sharing my personal experience so others out there, now facing the same Debt Crisis, will not feel alone, they will realize that there are many others who have lived this experience, they have the same story, except they are now sharing it for the betterment of mankind. It was my honour to open my heart this big and share these intimacies, but it is my hope that I have served well.
